

Lucy is an experienced dancer in classical and modern styles. Her teaching highlights include student success at regional, national and Australasian competition circuits.

She believes everyone should enjoy dance regardless of age, gender, body type, or experience.

Lucy also works for a leading national media company - this acumen supports our studio with strategy, marketing and communications.